Matching engine, body and gear box. The paintwork need some effort on it and that's reflected on the selling price. During the last two weeks, lots of viewers reflected the fact that the rear and the front bumper are not quite right. Jebson car first registered 041997. Only 41,500km from new supported by excellent history file. Magazine featured. Excellent condition. Cylinder head machine work done by a specialist in the US. Drives better than new. Appreciating classic and difficult to find better. An original Hong Kong Car in beautiful condition. Licensed until Feb 2021. Loving owned with service history No expense spared including all coachwork earlier this year and total auto gearbox restoration. An effortless joy to drive. The engine is a 2746 cc, 6 cylinders purely mechanical no electronic engine which produce 158hp at that time. It used to run nice and smooth but it just needs body work. Always planning for a full restoration but need too much time, energy and most important a reliable repair shop to keep a classic car like this. Now decided to let go and give her a new home. Done around 150000km. Arena red and black leathers. Well looked after by Road and Track mechanic. This car is in excellent condition for its year, fun to drive, and offers attractive economic upside in the mid to long term. A lovely convertible with a 3.5l engine.

Not so big, so easy to drive in the city traffic and easy to park. Car Maintenance done monthly. Im a car enthusiast, so after I bought the car I have put a lot of work into it. The car is in amazing condition, drives very well. The transmission is running great and have just done a full engine cleanse. Im looking for a smooth sale. Own it since 2009 but then spend most of the time in the storage, recently got it out fixing and put back on the road, being my dairy drive everyday now from home to work. The car is in amazing condition and appears to have had a reduce some years ago. The 2007 VOLVO S80 07 WIRING DIAGRAM PDF on DVD, Chevy Malibu Repair Manual Oil, 1970 Toyota Hilux Repair Manual, Stihl Ms 250C Manual, Ferguson To30 Manuals, Maintenance Manual Lathe Reload to refresh your session. Reload to refresh your session. Finding a decent car takes a long time, sadly theres a lot of crap out there priced the same as the best examples. Saw a 993 a few months back thats owned by an expat who left over a year ago. Hes priced it high and it needs 250K worth of work its that nasty. Know someone who paid top dollar for a 964, actually an outrageous amount of money at a certain high priced dealer in Happy Valley and it turned out to be a pup that needed an extortionate amount spending on it. Saying that air cooled prices have gone crazy the world over not just in HK. Time flew, I dont even have a chance to drive one. Just for weekend car. Just want to know should I get it. Hows the maintenanceAs with all Porshes, the best ones are the baseline RWD Carreras with a manual gearbox, which this one boasts. I dont like the convertibles myself, theyre heavier and lose a lot of chassis rigidity, but then in HK none of that really matters, and its a question of taste. Just be careful with the price of spares, thought most cars in HK will have been well looked after. And theres only so much you can push them in 5 mph traffic and on the one 65 mph highway with speed traps every 50 yards.;In HK, Id rather have an agile car than a heavier one with ultimate muscle. Mazda Miata yes. Bugatti Veyron no. There are plenty of winding roads with fun corners but few straights. Scratch that. Ill take the Veyron.;You should get it. If you are going to buy a car like that, questions about spares, fuel consumption etc shouldnt be an issue. You dont buy cars like that to save cash.Persoanlly I dont like the converts, but its only my personal taste. 993s are last of the air cools, and they are already becoming a classic of its own.

You will feel like you are driving something special once you are behind the cockpit.I dont think the price will depreciate much anymore. But obviously, maintanance cost will be high. My advice, go through at least 5 or 6 before you buy. I looked at 10, always buy the best one you can afford. Also, look for low transfers and this is a must, buy one that has service history. Dealers will always tell you they lost it, or no one in HK keeps it. This is BS, a 993 with service records shows the previous owners cared about his 993. good luckThe feeling is nice espically for vintage car. Hopefully I will negotiate the price down close to 300k. Thanks for your adviceThey take off the fee if you get the car serviced from them. I have used them a few times and they are quite thorough. Most problems can be forsean with proper SERVICE RECORDS for the Immediate past 34 years. A full engine service with oil seals, hoses can set you back 35 to 50k.Even a small oil drip can be a result of the V FRAGILE oil seals. The seals are CHEAP but access to them means stripping many bits. As for the roof, the only thing to look out for is the windscreen seals as they can cause water leaks after a while. Not expensive to change. The last thing is the rear PVC window on the conv top. It gets milky or sctratchy after a while. You can get that changend locally. Dont get FOOLED by the common myth about high owners meaning a bad car. I would rather buy a car with 6 owners and service history than a car with 1 owner and patchy service records. Specially for a Performance sports car.How much it cost for the full check the car. Right, actually I dont really care about all that 01 owners, I don't mind if it's over 56 owners the most problem is they keep the car well. Thanks for your opinion. I'll need to dig out the details but ask 1081 for Road and Track Performance Limited in Kwun Tong. They have been doping Porsches for 15 years and many of their cars are done up for the Race track.

I would NOT BOTHER with an AA type check as they always put a disclaimer saying that they can not be held liable if the vehicle has a past accident record that went undetected. I tried to ring 1081 but they couldn't find me the number for Road and Track Performance Limited. Right, AA just a joke.
